These are...

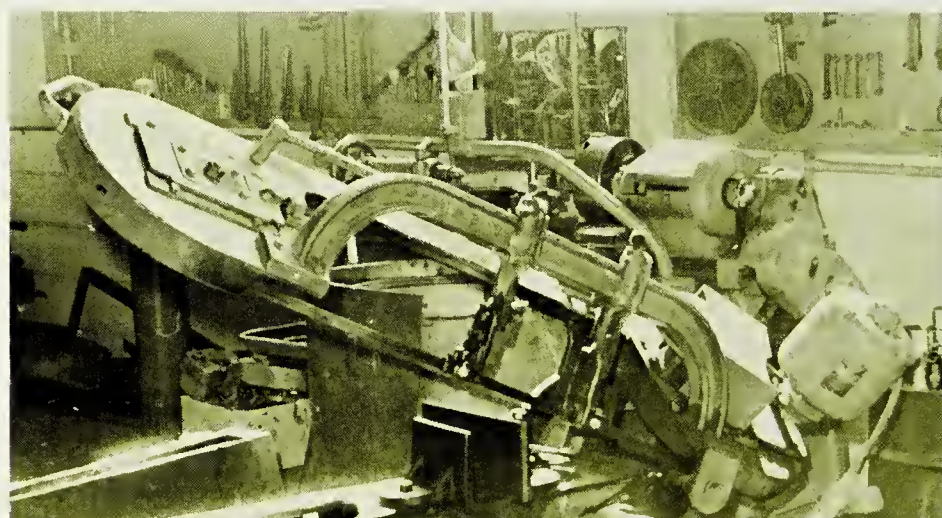

Yes, these are the signs of the time. Even though each student has felt the pressures, hardships, and the happiness at James River, experiences and new situations have been the keys to the emerging individual; each demanding growth to occur within us.

About Face!

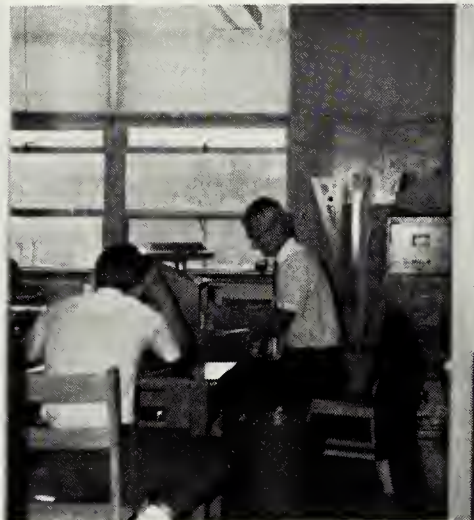

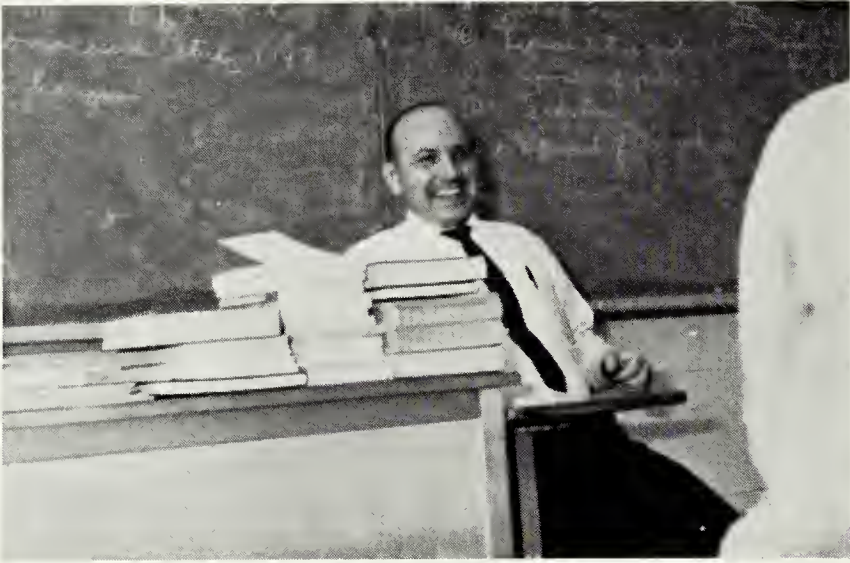

The results are staggering . . .

I give up . . . there's no use trying . . .

Teachers give advice,

smiles, and help!!!

The key word to success is determination. During your high school years the faculty assists every student in making this success possible. Not only does a student need faculty advice, but he must have the willpower to want to learn and achieve higher goals.

Sports help students to

I guess there's no use . . . sigh

You a doctor? HA! That's a big laugh!

The James River athletic program provides both entertainment and healthful physical activity for its students. They are able to develop themselves in stature outside of class and at the same time develop their mind in class. A student learns to accept the joy of winning as well as the acceptance of failure.

Don't worry, I'm growing . . .

How do you think of things like that???

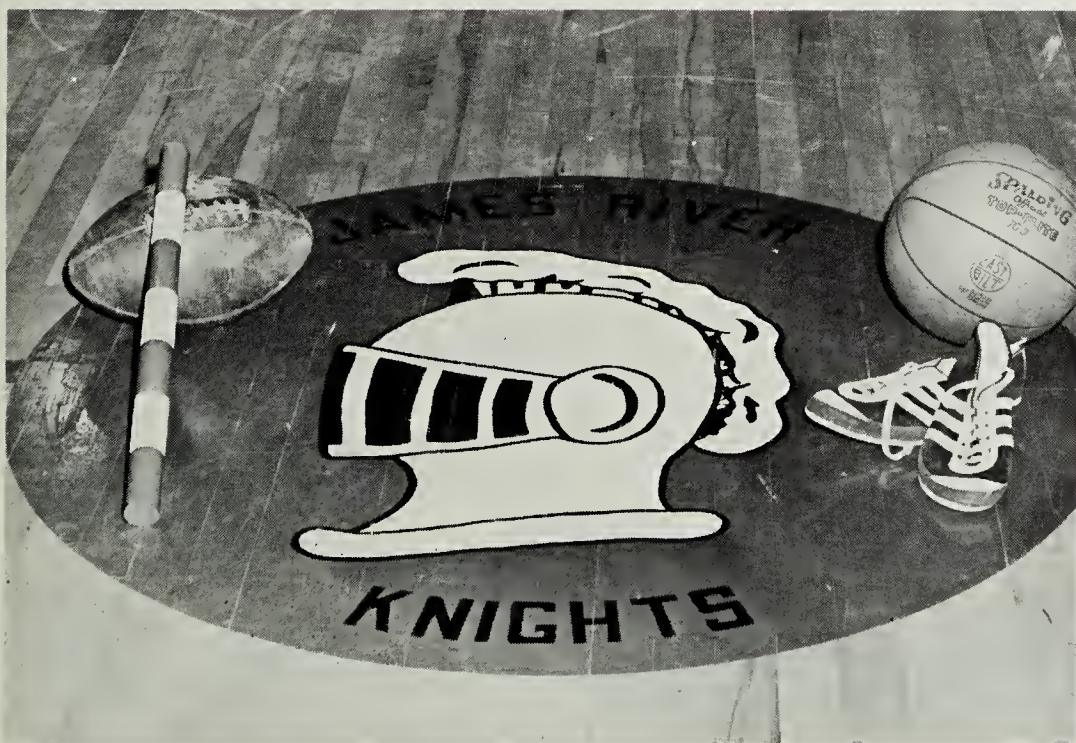

Be of good cheer, yes, be of good cheer . . .

Thirsty???

That's one I'm going to have to think about for awhile!

launch varied yearly happenings

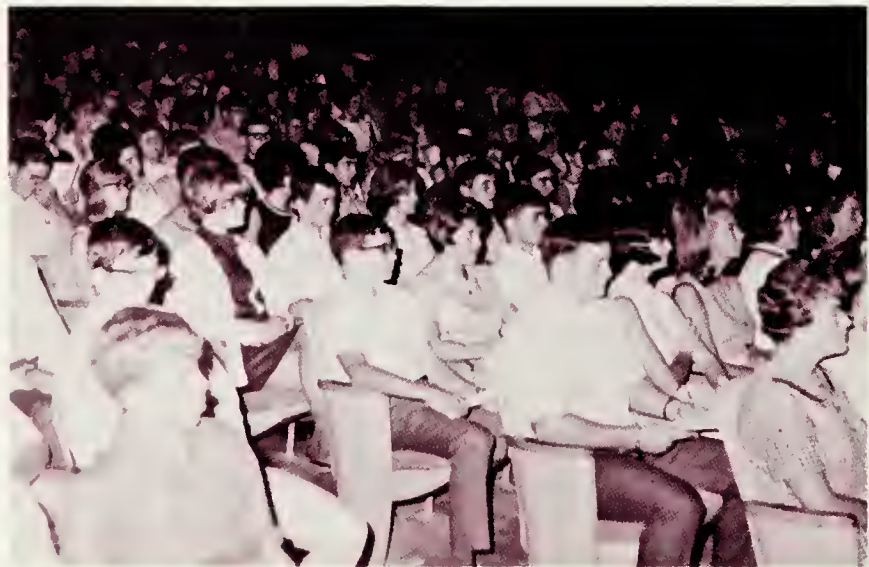

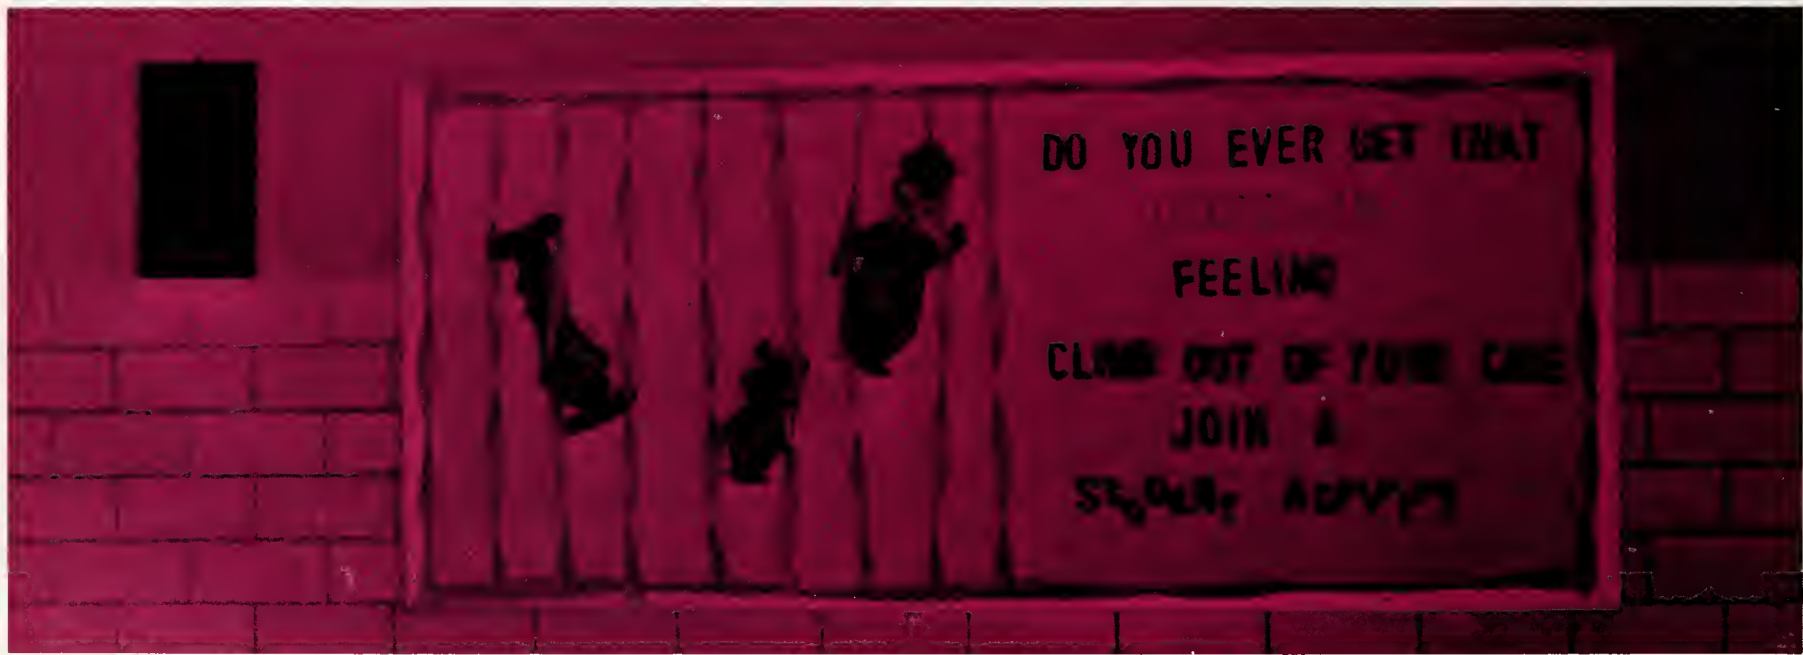

Feet are fascinating things!!!

Teenagers constantly find themselves happily caught up in the active position of promoting and participating in school happenings. They learn to work together; therefore, a warm, congenial relationship results throughout the school.

obtained from belonging

Well!!!

We finally made it!

Would you look at that!!!

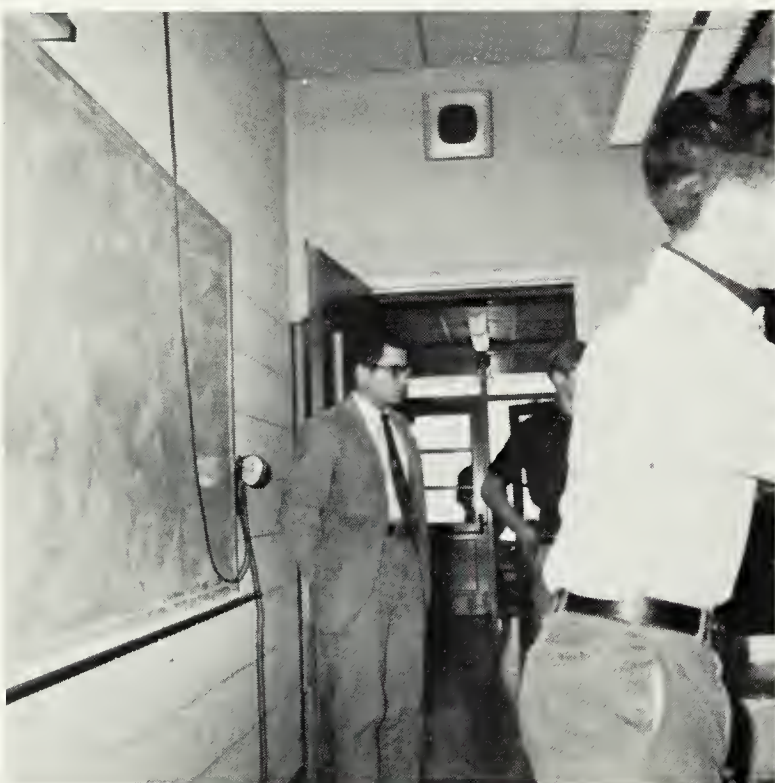

Maturity is grasping opportunities — opportunities to communicate and to express oneself, to participate and to contribute, to become a member and then a leader. No one will remember the activities and assemblies missed, but there will always be a twinge of emptiness for those who didn't care or were afraid to get involved.

In Recognition

Miss Ruth Finch, Math 8,9

The ideals of a teacher are like stars. A teacher does not succeed in touching them with her hands; but, like the seafaring man, she chooses them as her guides, and following them, she reaches her destiny.

Miss Finch is a prophet.

She laid the foundations of tomorrow.

Miss Finch is a friend.

Her heart responded to the faith and devotion of her students.

Miss Finch is an interpreter.

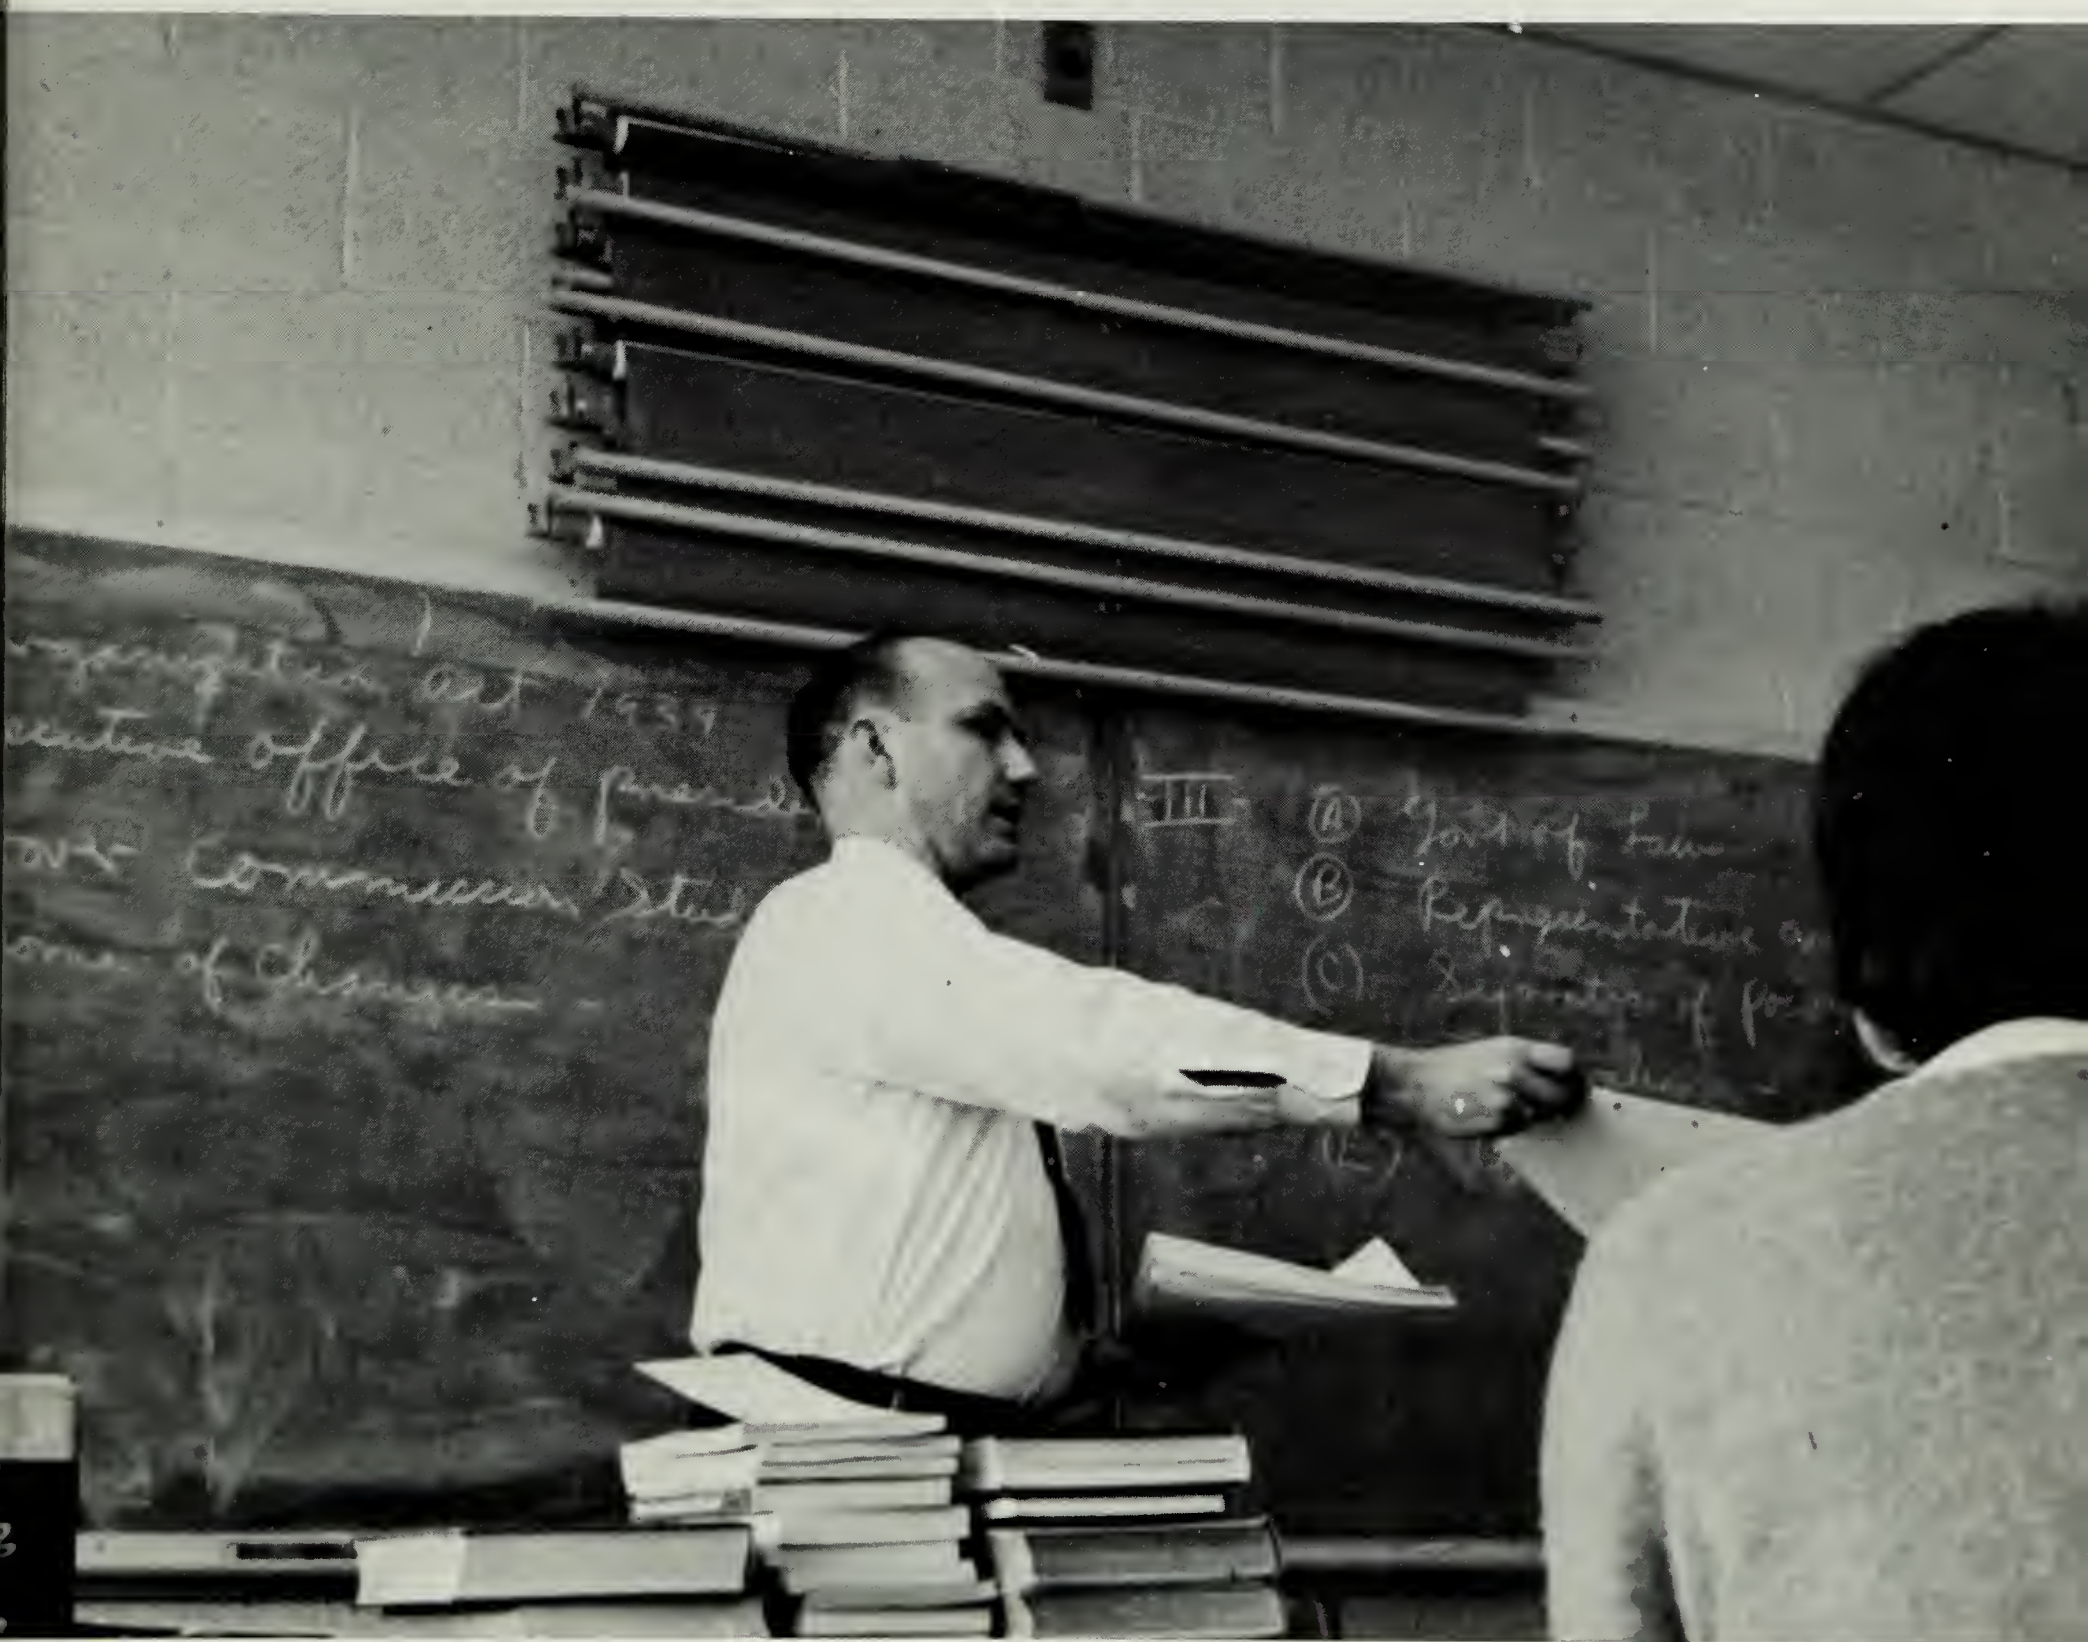

Out of her maturer and wider life, she sought to guide the young.

Miss Finch is a planner.

She saw the young lives before her as a part of a great system which would grow stronger in the light of truth.

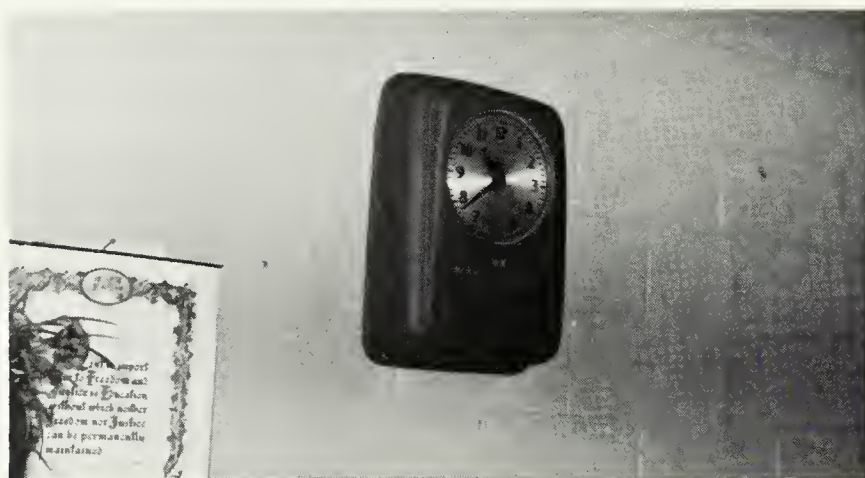

Miss Finch is a believer.

She had abiding faith in the improvability of young people.

ACADEMICS

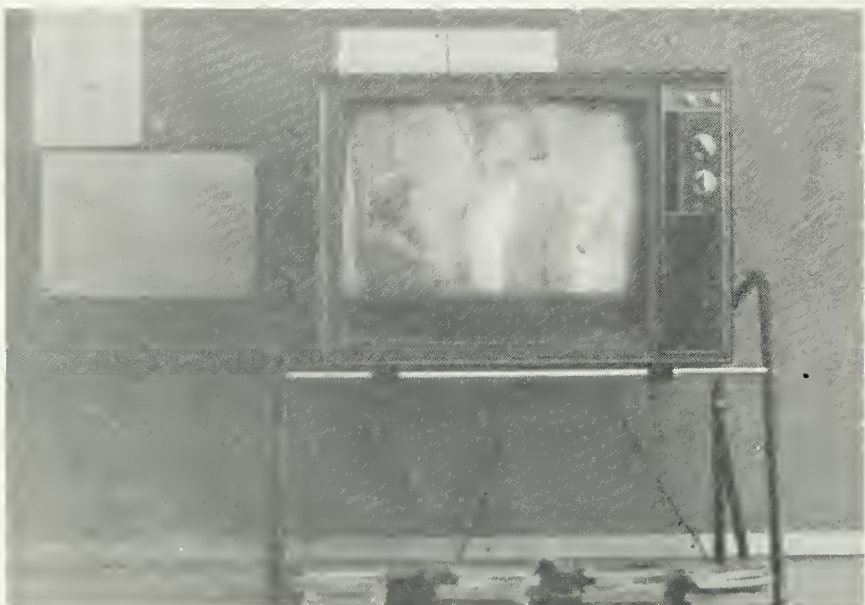

A challenge for teachers and students

The master of the bells.

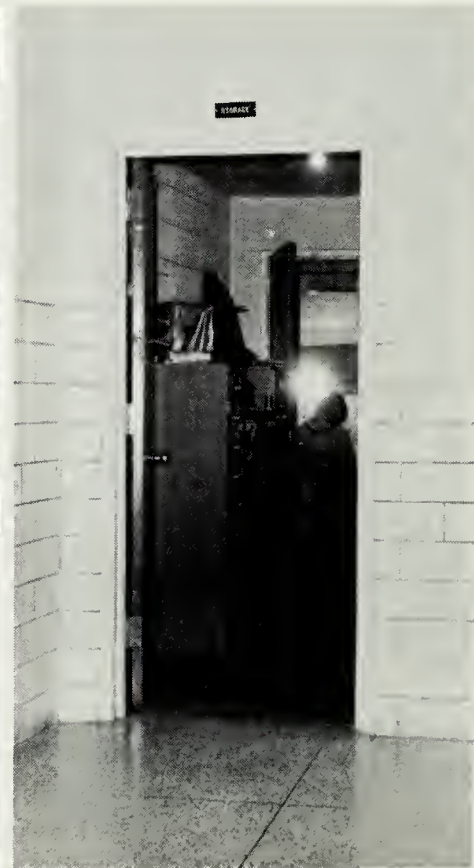

Classes begin.

Television has become an important part of the high school education.

Miss Zimmerman, Mr. Shotwell, and Mrs. Thompson have an early morning conference.

Students seem to study everywhere.

Academics at James River include the departments of math, English, Foreign Language, music, history, vocational education, home economics, science, business, health, and physical education. Various teaching aids were used such as television, movies, tape recordings and lectures. The challenge was met by an experienced and well qualified faculty and the students were engulfed in a sea of educational opportunity.

Home Economics

Mrs. Deisher prepares to hand out a test.

Two of Mrs. Kinzie's girls, Susan Smith and Diane Tucker, prepare various foods in the kitchen.

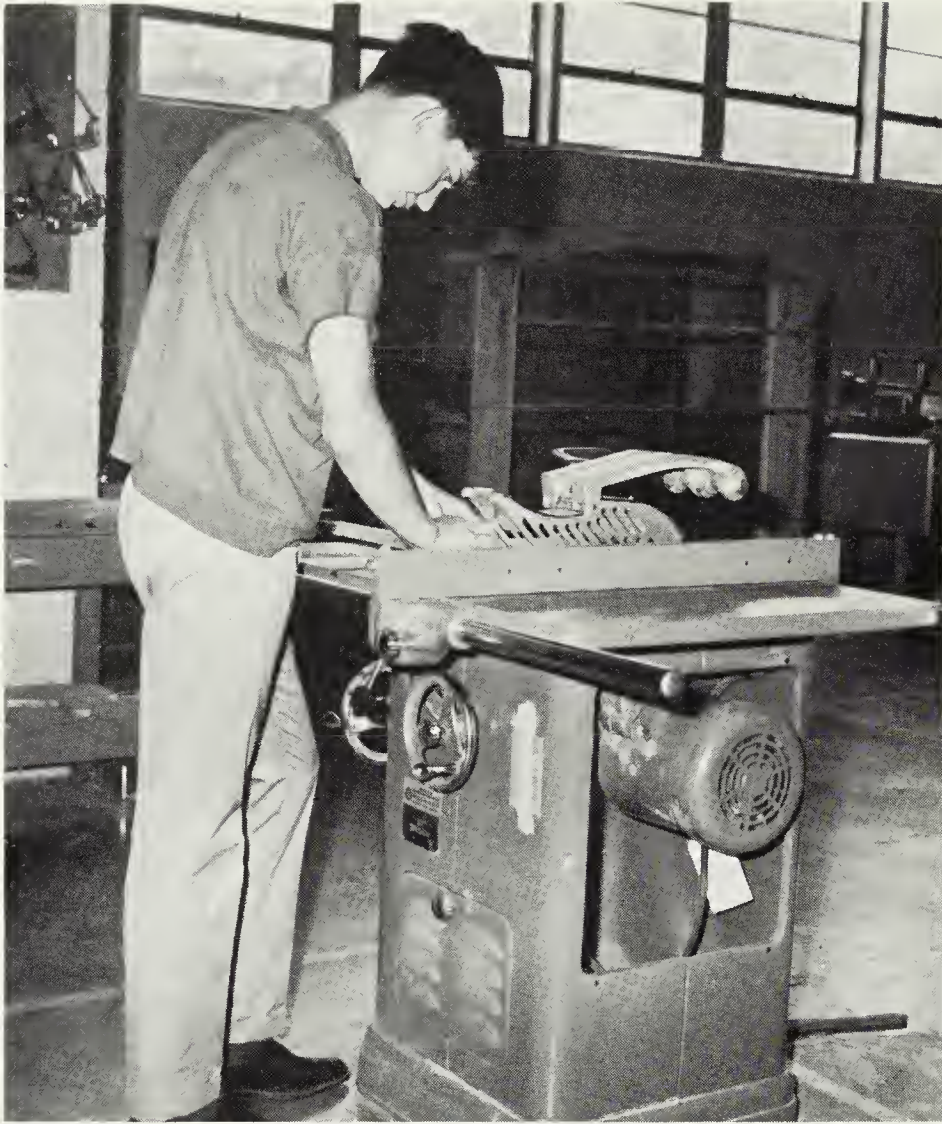

Two 10th grade girls, Rachael Linkenhoker and Diana Sloan, make good use of these sewing machines.

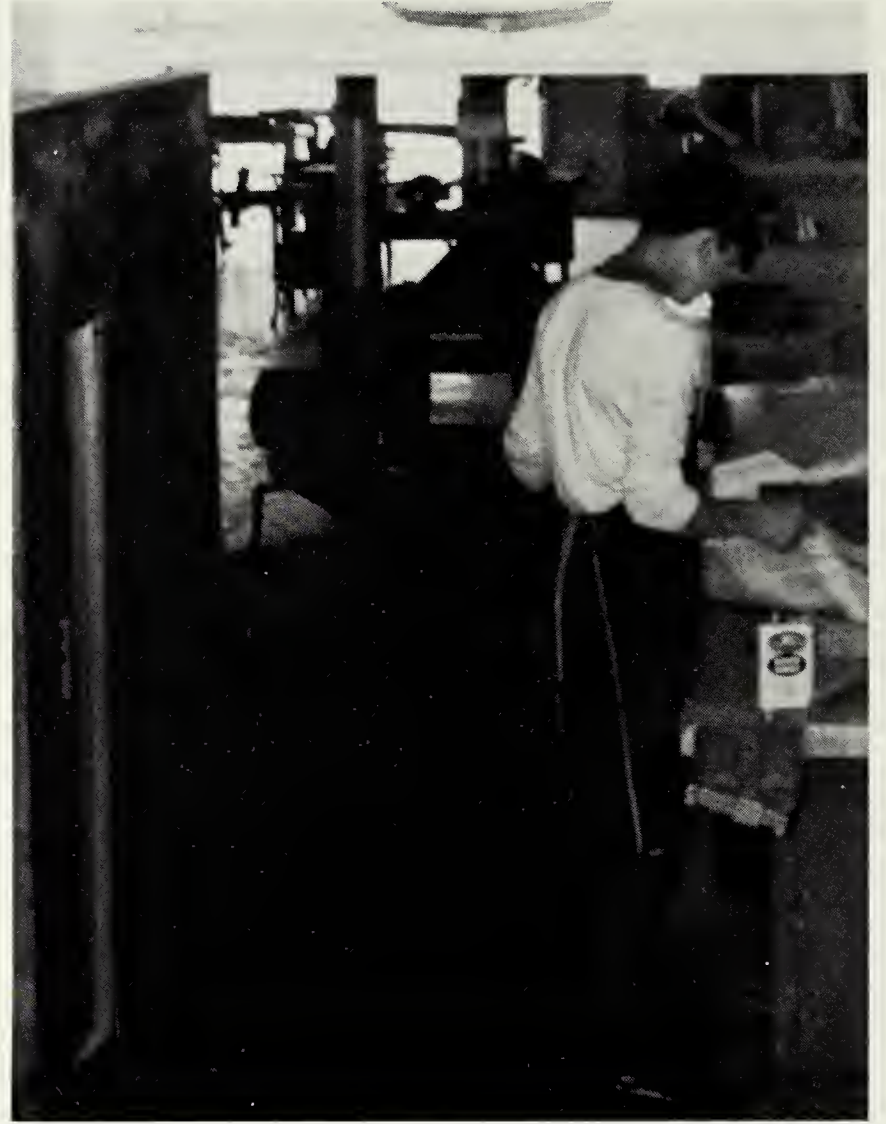

Mrs. Deisher's senior home economics class.

The Home Economics Department of James River ranges from grades 8 through 12. The first year students learn the basics of cooking and sewing. As they continue the course they expand their knowledge of these arts which are necessary in becoming a good homemaker. To highlight the year the home economics students presented a fashion show called "Spring Fling" to the student body.

Vocational Education

Danny Coffey starts work on his project.

Danny continues with another phase in the construction of this piece of furniture.

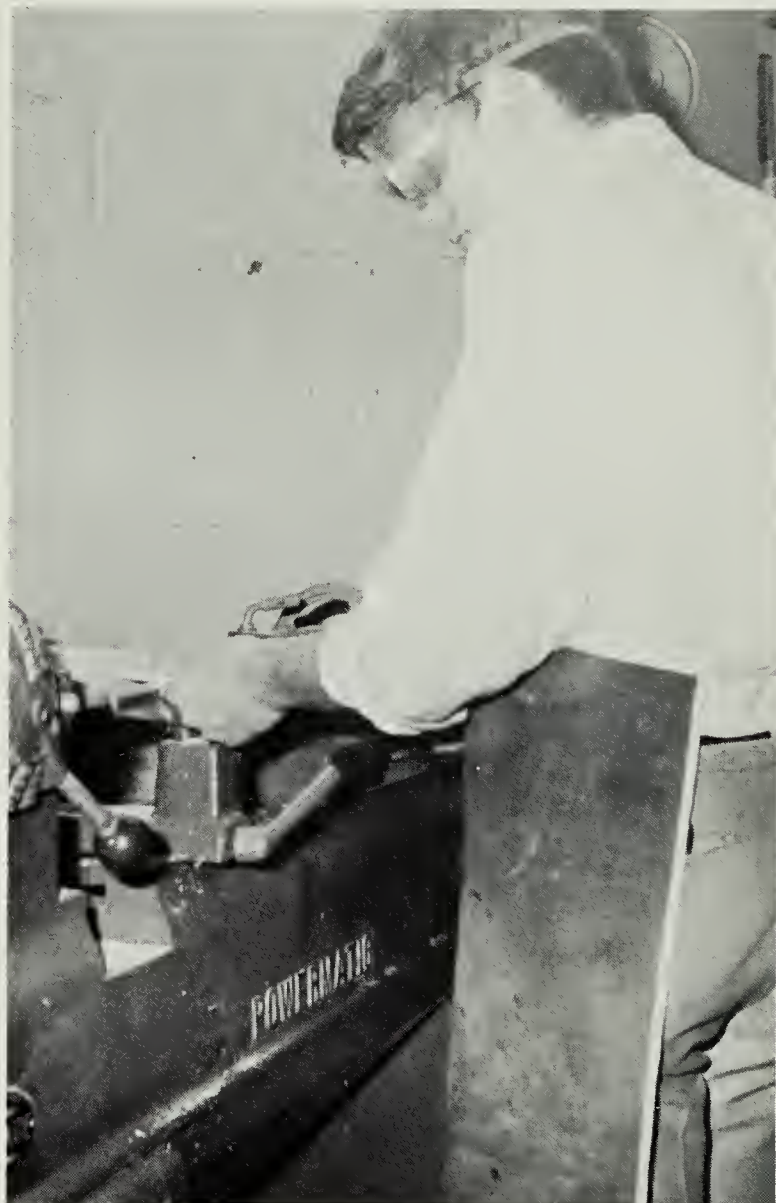

Mr. McGhee instructs these boys in the skill of surveying.

for James River Boys

With the help of Richard Entsminger, Danny puts the finishing touches on.

Student operates complicated piece of equipment.

Vocational Education constitutes one of the most effective devices of teaching through participating experiences. The industrial arts departments, headed by Mr. Neil, employs particular experience for education in mechanical fields.

Vocational Agriculture under the direction of Mr. McGhee and in cooperation with the FFA Organization sparks educational interest designed to develop agricultural leadership, scholarship, and thrift. Both these departments often depend on skills only taught in the art of drawing mechanically. This separate department under the guidance of Mr. Tyack performs its own special task in introducing young men to the skill of Mechanical Drawing.

Increasing ones depth in education through training both mind and hand in skilled labor, better prepares today's youth for the challenge of tomorrow's world.

Mr. Neil not only shows the boys how to use the machinery in the shop but has to grade papers as well.

The Science Department

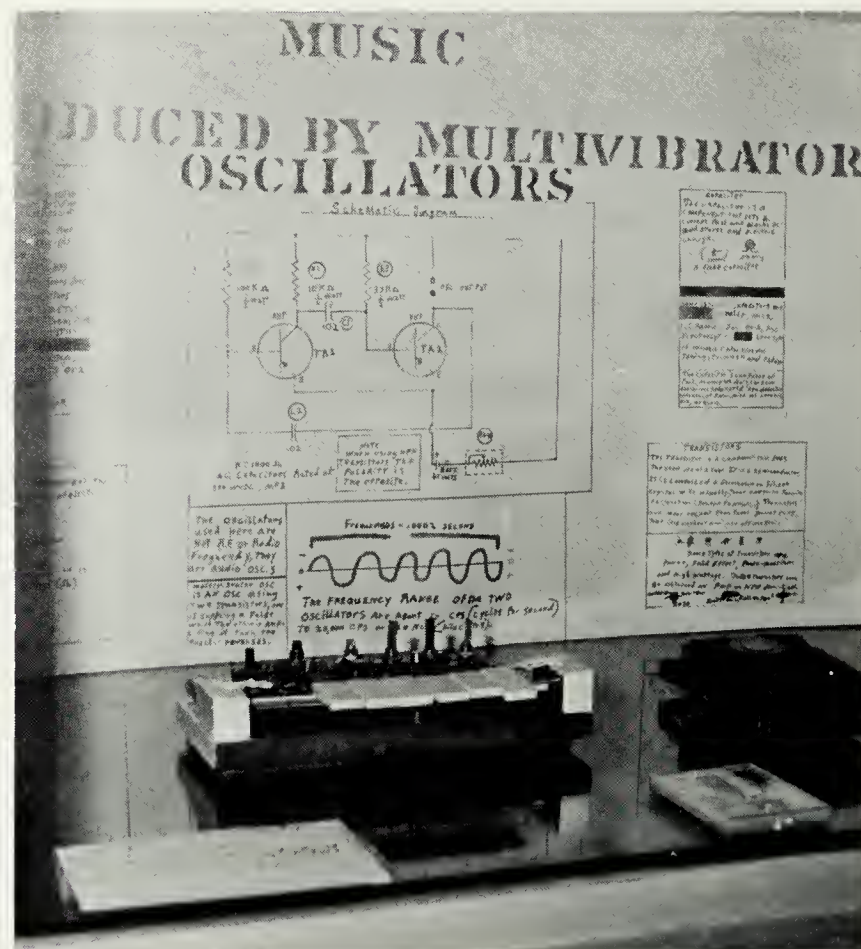

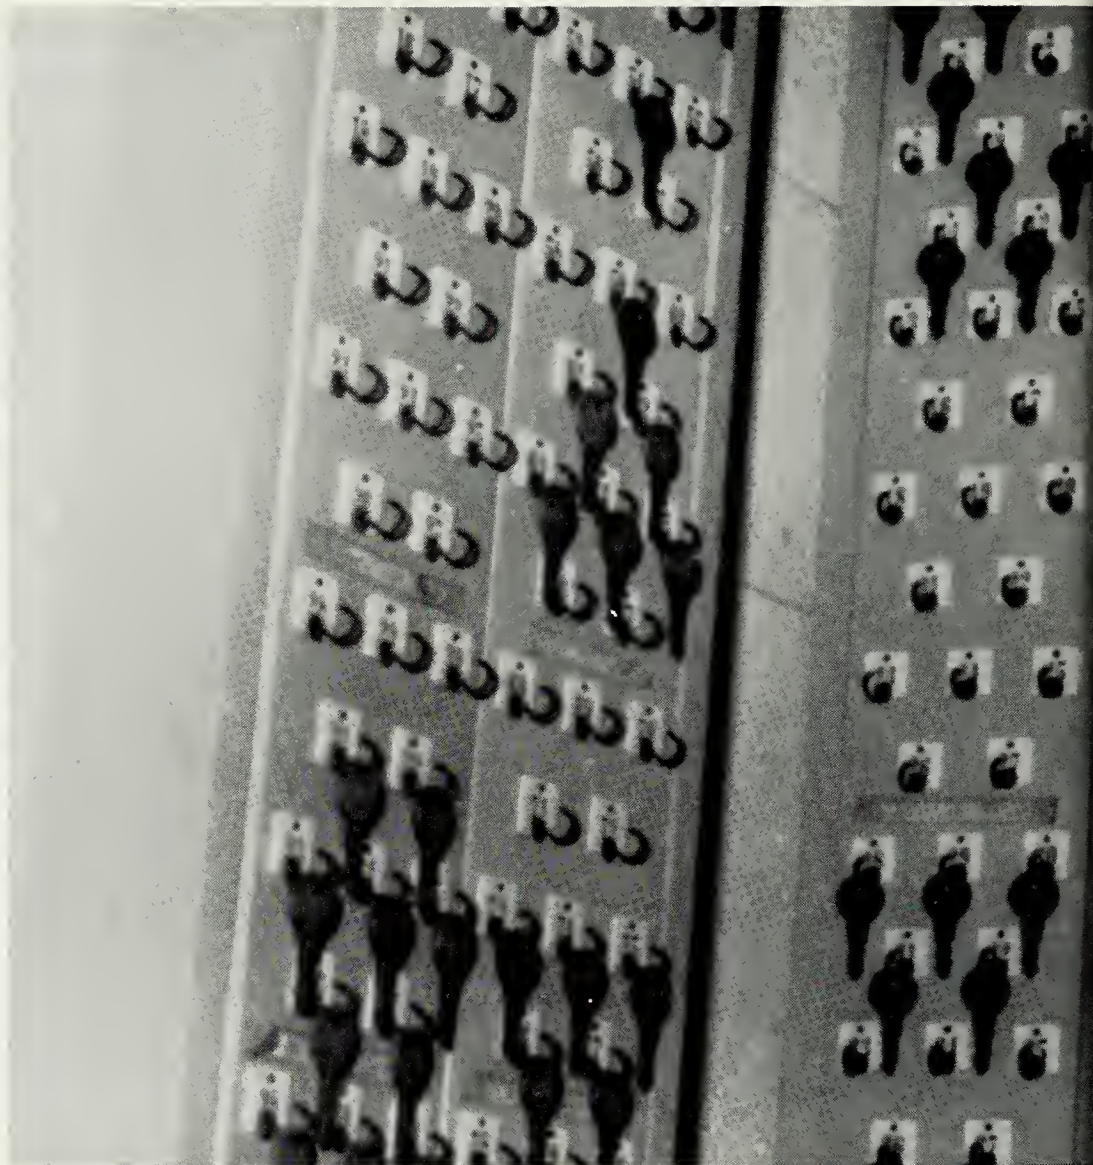

Mr. Taylor lectures his biology class.

The sum total of all man's knowledge has doubled in the past 100 years. Much of the advance has been in the field of science. High schools throughout the United States have endeavored to supply those courses necessary to qualify young people to continue this progress. To take care of this demand James River High School offers an extremely qualified science department.

General Science, introduced by Mrs. Paine and Mr. Shotwell, provides a basic background in various areas of science. General Biology is the next step in the scientific ladder, followed by Advanced Biology, taught by Mr. Taylor. Human anatomy and physiology are studied in comparison to the body of T.H.E. cat in this class. H_2SO_4 , Howard's explosive general chemistry class combines laboratory and class work in areas of inorganic, descriptive, organic, analytical chemistry.

The knowledge secured from the study of these courses gives depth and perspective to the lives of the participants.

Science Fair project done by one of the science students.

The keys of chemistry.

Mr. Taylor, as well as his students, observes microscopic life.

Mr. "Bones" is used by the science department as well as in the health.

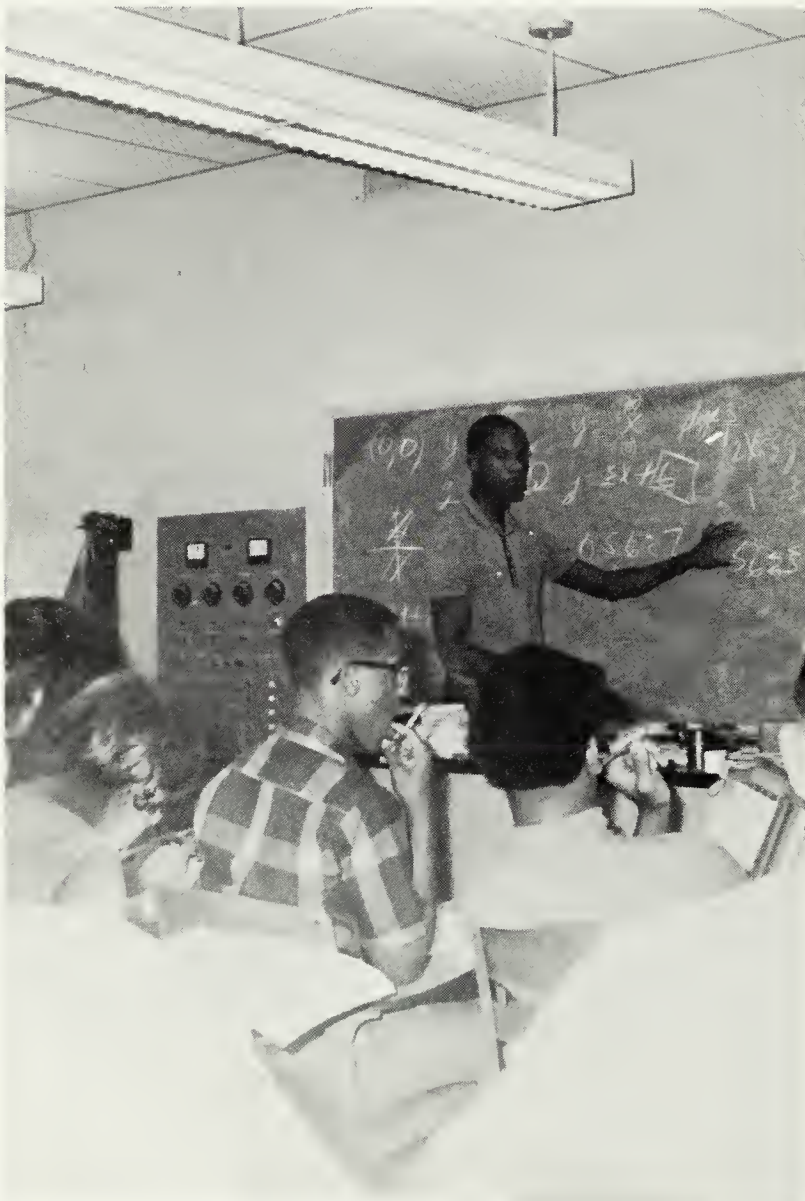

Mathematics at James River

Mrs. Hedgebeth's geometry class pays close attention. (Wonder how much? $)

This is an 8th grade math class. Can't you tell.

Mr. Howard shows his algebra class exactly how to work the equation.

Miss Finch instructs her 9th grade math class.

The Trig. and Advanced Algebra Class wouldn't be the same without Mr. Johnston.

The mathematics department of James River has a two fold purpose—preparing students for college work and meeting needs of other students through practical math courses. As college preparatory courses, James River offers Algebra I, Geometry, Algebra II, and Trigonometry and Advanced Algebra. Other courses offered are Eighth Grade Math and Practical Math. Students taking these courses are directed through the jungle of equations, rational and irrational numbers, imaginary numbers, and radicals by a group of capable, dedicated teachers. The department headed by Mr. Johnston includes Mr. Howard, Mrs. Hedgebeth, Mr. Tyack, and Miss Finch. The success of graduates of James River in various fields of mathematics give credit to these teachers as well in themselves.

History

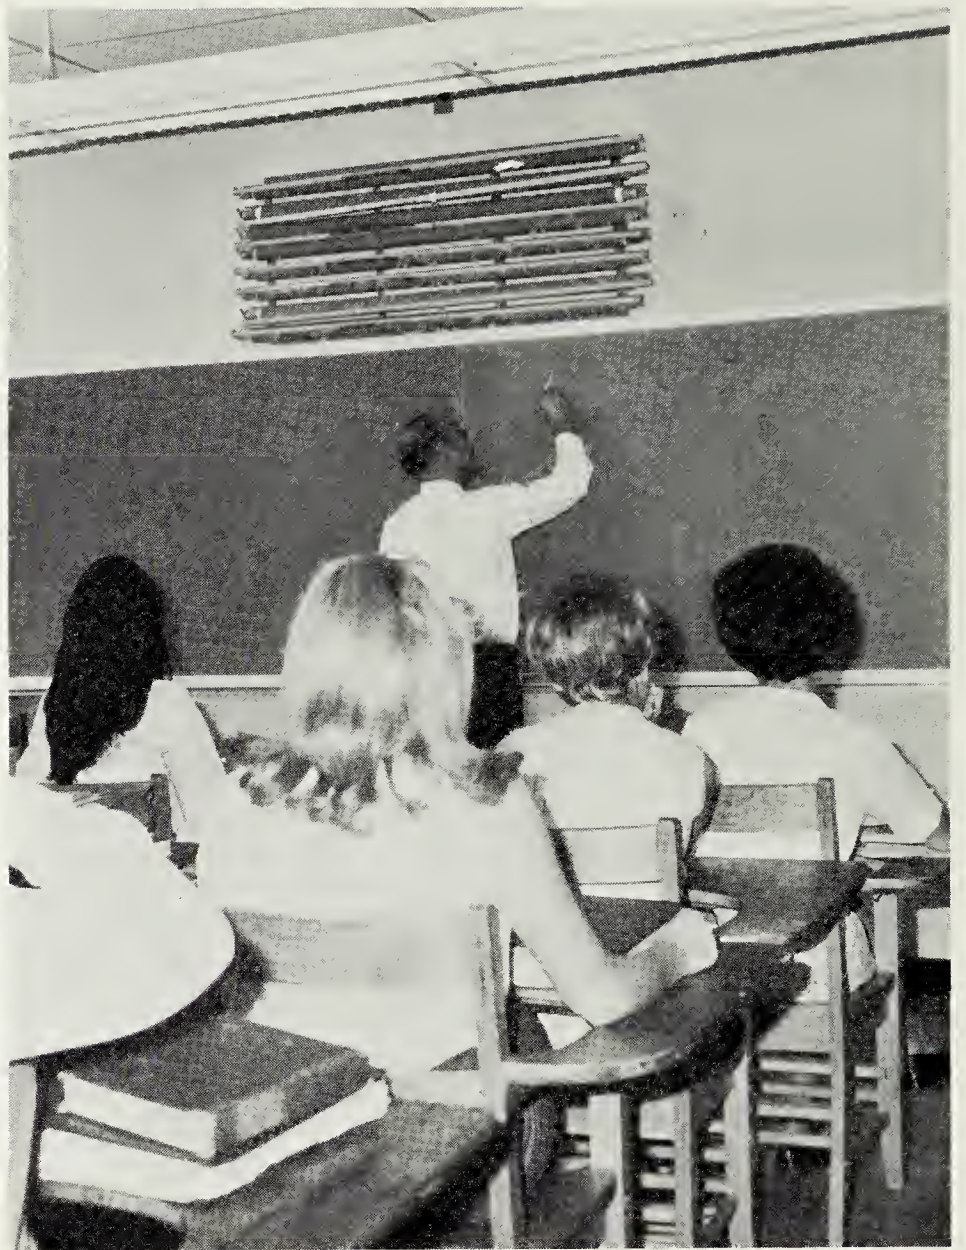

Mr. Shield's 11th grade history class hard at work.

Great men have said, "History is but a picture of human crime and Government a necessary evil." This statement is manifested in the study of the Boxer Rebellion, Boston Tea Party and our political parties.

Here at James River, History, Government, and Geography courses contribute to the general education of its students by helping them to become responsible, intelligent, and enlightened members of the local, national and world communities. History courses help to broaden our knowledge of important past events. Geography courses inform us of exact locations of neighboring countries, states and cities. Government establishes a foundation around which we may build our present and future lives.

Through this enlightenment of education, may the picture of history change and may the evils of government decrease.

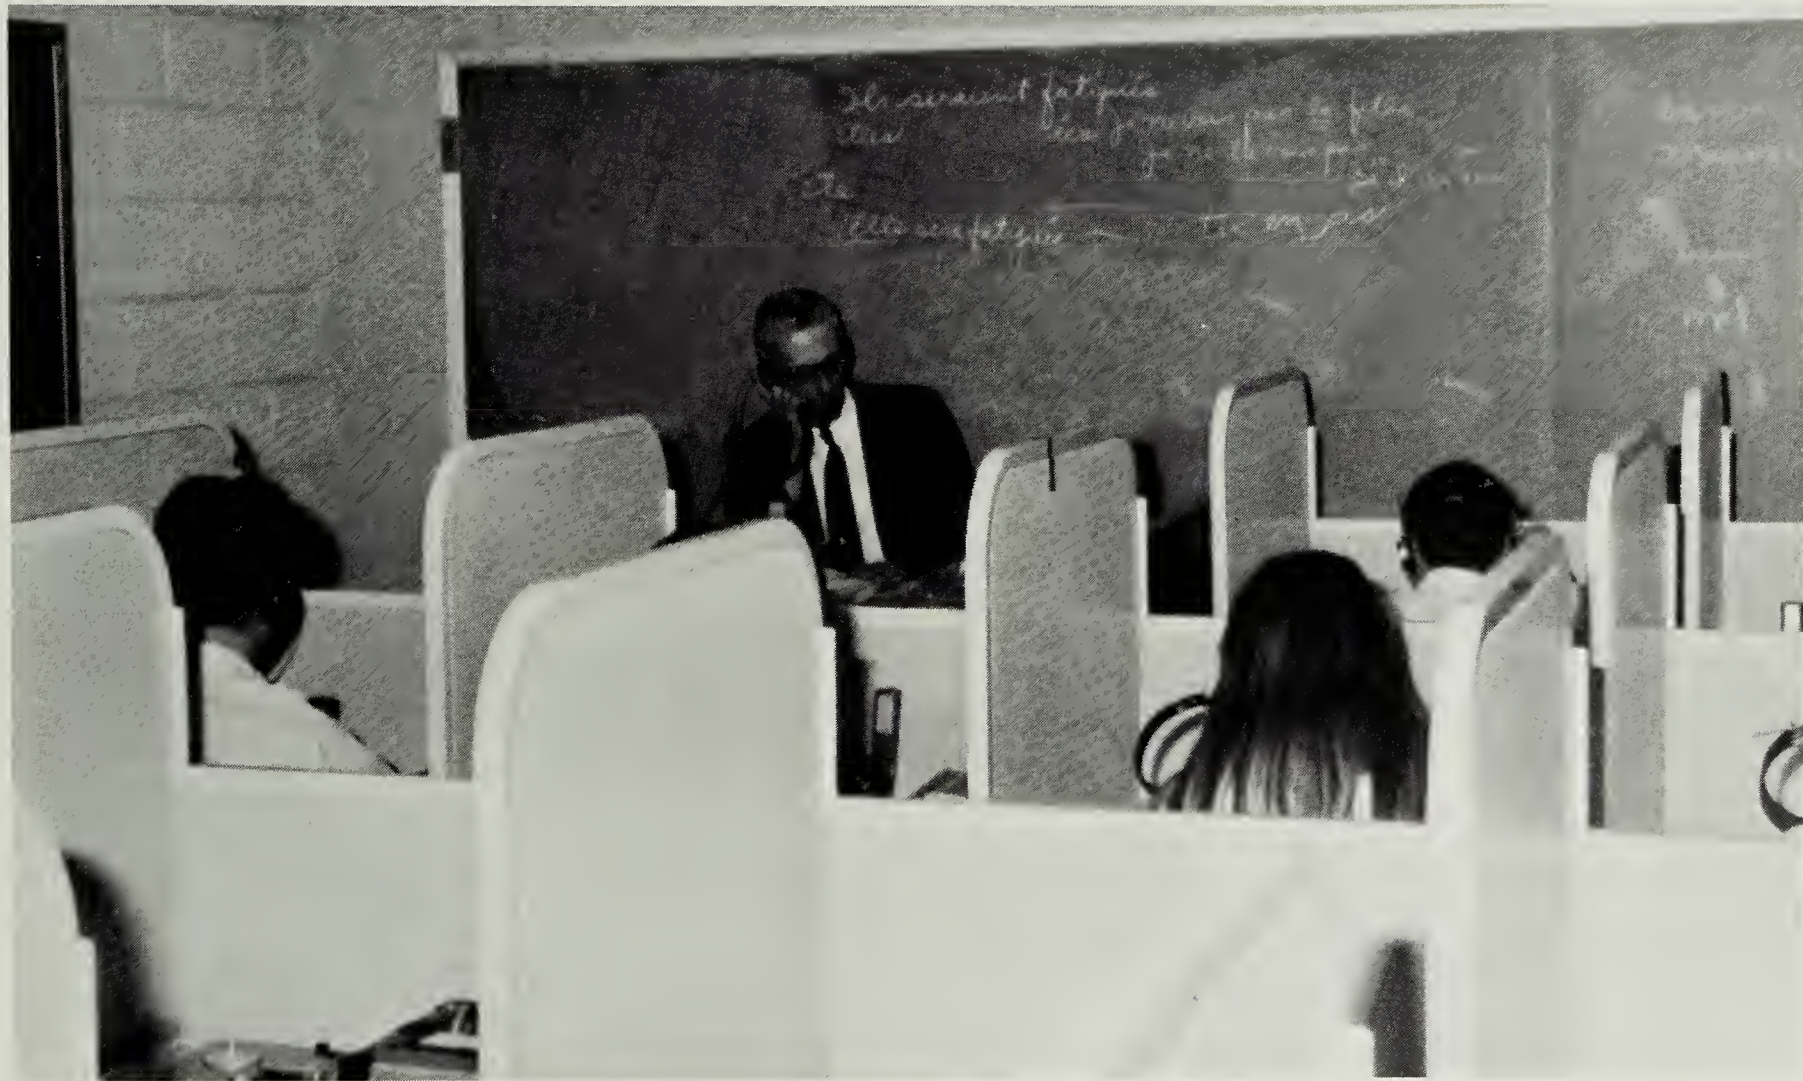

Mr. Hall at blackboard preparing to give his fifth period government class some homework.

Mrs. Thompson prepares to show a movie to her geography class.

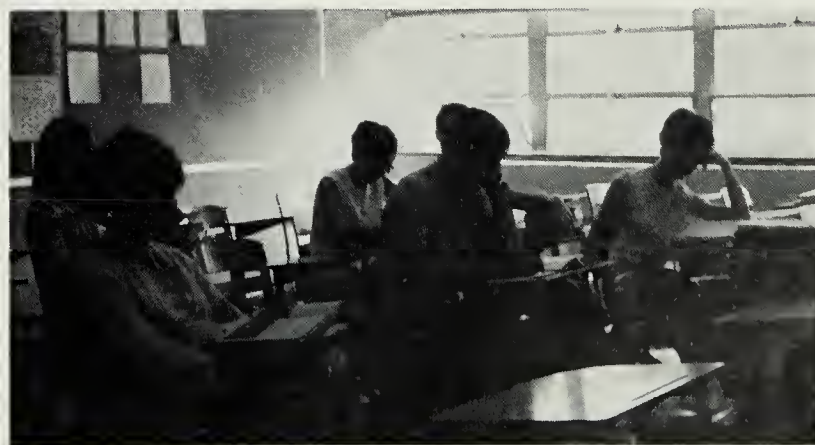

Foreign Language Department

Mr. Bolton listens carefully to his French students in the language lab.

Foreign language at James River was taught by Mr. Emmitt Bolton. During the course of the day Mr. Bolton taught two Latin I classes, a Latin II class, a French I class, and a French II class. Mr. Bolton made good use of the language lab and various tape recordings to add variety to his classes.

Latin II is not fun and games.

French II students are very attentive.

The English Department

Terry McCulloch receives a book report grade in English 10.

An 8th grade English class. Got a headache?

English is the basis of all learning. The skill of writing, listening, speaking, and reading must all be taught in our English department. This task is achieved by Mrs. Middlecamp, Mrs. Fountain, Miss Glaseock, Mrs. Rankin, Miss Zimmerman, Mrs. Hedgebeth, Mrs. Osborne, and Mrs. Terry. These many-faceted jobs demand flexibility and integrity. They must instruct the variety of all James River Students, who range from the college-bound to those whose formal education will terminate at graduation. Students are encouraged to increase their understanding and curiosity. Mrs. Rankin guides interested seniors to enhance their knowledge of the English language to understand human development. These teachers devote their time and energy to giving their students these foundations of comprehension.

Grammar, Composition, and Literature

Miss Glascock, a new teacher at James River, scrutinizes one of her 9th grade English classes.

Under the ever watchful eye of Mrs. Rankin, this 11th grade English class goes into action. (With a few exceptions of course.)

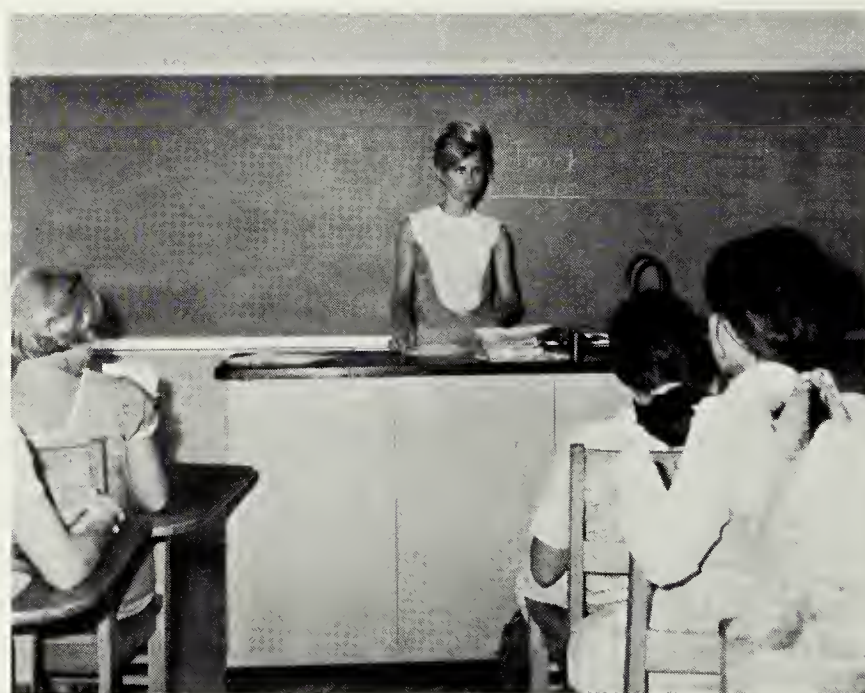

Advanced English girls conduct a lively discussion, while (below) the boys carefully listen to them?

Health and Physical Education

10th grade boys do push-ups. ?

The James River Health and Physical Education Department, headed by Miss Dianne Howell, Mr. John Baker, and Mr. John Shotwell, strives to develop both the physical and mental capabilities needed to make an all-round student. This idea was stressed by the Greeks' philosophy of a "sound mind and a sound body." From the intriguing questions and so-called answers in Health class to the "gruesome gauntlet" of push-ups, sit-ups, agility drills, and windsprints in gym class, these teachers strive to maintain a combination of sincerity and light-heartedness in their work.

Miss Howell instructs girls health class.

Boys health class.

Girls play softball as Miss Howell looks on.

Business Department

Shorthand II students take dictation from Mrs. Lowman

The clickety-clack of typewriters—riffing of papers—squeak of erasing—hum of adding machines—sighs and groans of despair—gleeful chuckles of satisfaction erupt from the classrooms of the business department everyday as students; in typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, general business, and office practice, strive toward the elusive goals of proficiency and efficiency which are achieved only through hard work, study, and determination.

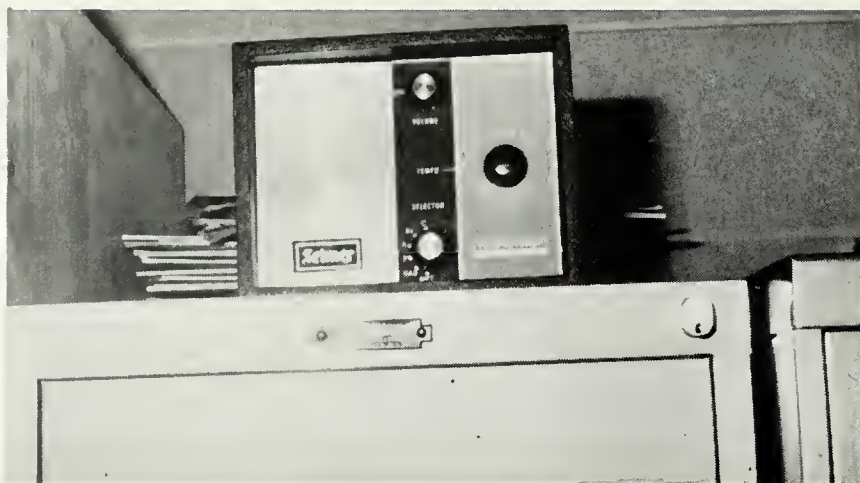

Under the expert supervision of Mrs. Lowman, Mrs. Morris, and Mrs. Middlecamp, students not only learn the business fundamentals, but also receive valuable advice on job interviews, dress, and behavior in the business world.

Each student's proficiency and efficiency depends on himself and the amount of work and study he does. Each business student, though, ascertains that the satisfaction derived from doing his job well is worth the effort expended.

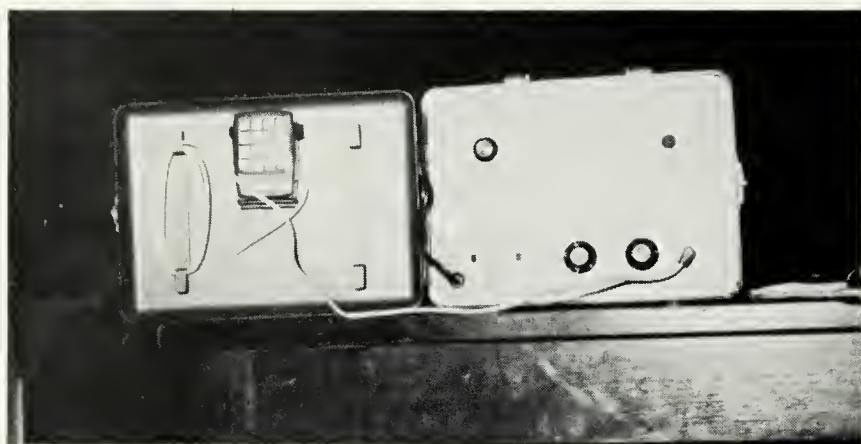

Michael Camper makes the third try on a three minute timed writing

Music Department

Teacher! Mr. George W. Lowe

"Wonder Where The Music Is"

Mr. Lowe directs first period advanced band class

The music department of James River was expanded even further this year to include two advanced band classes and one beginner class. Under the capable direction of Mr. George W. Lowe, the band improved greatly. In their bright new uniforms the band performed at football games, pep rallies, parades, and assemblies. This year the band presented a spring concert to which the public was invited.

In the fall of 1964, 114 eighth graders entered the halls of James River High. They faced five years of struggles and triumphs. These eighth graders were to participate in many firsts — the first debate team, the first G.A.A., the first Y-Teen Club, the first cross country team — before graduating in June 1969.

As freshmen, the members of the Class of '69 began to take their places of leadership in all school activities. They cheered the football team in the Cider Barrel competition and several members attended All-State Chorus. The year 1967 saw members of this class work in a newly formed band and make plans for their prom. The prom, themed "Stairway to the Stars", and the play, "The Importance of Being Ernest," made the Junior scene as all-star productions.

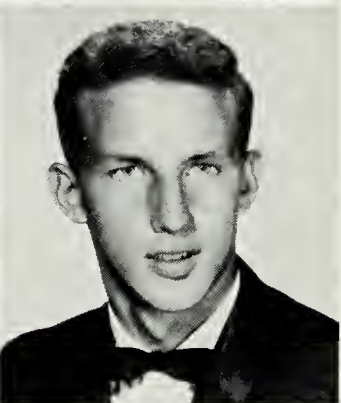

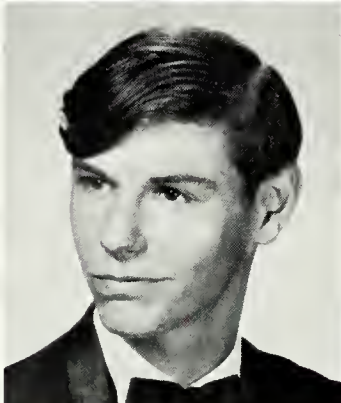

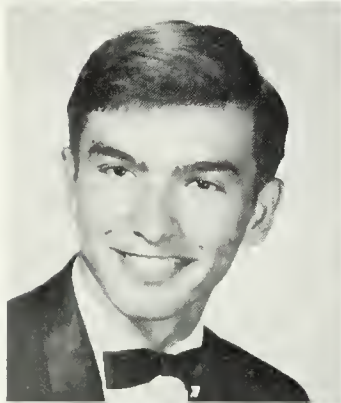

The last year of a class is always filled with memories — memories of the Senior play, "Cat O'Nine Tails," memories of an all Senior panel on Klass-room Kwiz, and memories of girls entering the Miss Botetourt Pageant.

When graduation separates the 88 Seniors in June, their life currents will flow in many directions from the mainstream of life at James River. What the future holds is unknown, but it will be guided by the principles learned at James River High.

WHY?

It's hard to believe
It's hard to understand
Why the Lord should take a little boy,
And not a full grown man.
A boy, as young as spring.
A boy, who'd never know
What life is really like.
Or why he had to go.
The Lord knows best they say,
I guess that's really true;
But that doesn't answer the question,
That I am asking you.
He was a child so young.
Why did he have to die?
We didn't even get a chance,
To tell our friend good-bye.

Banner of the Marching Knights.

The lonesome stage cluttered with band instruments, stands, chairs, music, and an array of uniforms comes alive during first, second, and third periods under the experienced touches of 53 musicians. Directed by Mr. Lowe, the Band practiced during and after school in preparation for many extra-curricular activities. The most familiar of these were the pep rallies at which strains of "Washington and Lee Swing" were often heard and enjoyed. The Band also played at football games and maneuvered through appropriated formations at the half times. The Band represented James River at four Christmas parades and the District Band Festival. To promote interest in music, the Band gave demonstrations at Eage Rock and Buchanan elementary schools. During its three years of existence, the Band endeavored to establish a tradition for which J.R.H.S. could be proud.

Marching Ahead in 1969

Majorettes

Strutting in their new majorette uniforms the members of the Knights Marching Majorette Squad put forth an effort to keep the J.R.H.S. band ahead this year. Baton twirling and precision drillwork were featured by the six majorettes.

The high-steppers traveled with the band to march in a number of parades, and they also performed in assemblies at different schools in the area. The majorettes led the band onto the football field for many successful pre-game and half time shows. Not only did the girls twirl batons to many popular songs, but they also did swinging flag performances with bright, wavy red flags.

The James River majorettes were selected this year by Mr. Lowe, sponsor of the group. Each girl was required to perform a baton solo and march to a drum cadence. The final decision rested on a point system—the girl receiving the highest number of points obtained the title of head-majorette.

Linda Coggin and Gary Barger added their color to the rainbow.

Stressed Knowledge and Leadership

Linda Coggin presented Gary Barger the Beta Club gavel.

The James River Chapter of the National Beta Club gives recognition to those who obtain high academic standards. The goal of the Beta Club is to promote the highest possible scholastic achievement among the students of James River. The club meets every month to discuss new business and to hold interesting programs.

Various money making projects are held in order to send representatives to the State Beta Club Convention at the George Marshall Hotel in Richmond. At the end of the school year the club held an assembly in which the new members and the new president, Gary Barger, were installed.

The James River Debaters.

James River's debate team sponsored by Mrs. Madaline Bunn, contributed to expanding the school's horizons. The Varsity Debate Team consisted of Nancy Dunbar, Jennifer Backman, Clyde Beamer, and David Rankin who attended four international tournaments this year. The affirmative team, Nancy Dunbar and Jennifer Backman, won the first place affirmative trophy at Wake Forest International Tournament. The entire team won the district debating championship and placed second in the state. An eighth grade team was formed including Alice Breeden, Patricia Coggin, Jay Jackson, and Clifton Coffey. These young people won a tournament and received several speaker awards. Other members of the Debate Club were Byron Breedlove and Debra Worley. Although debating is only two years old at James River, these two years have been extremely profitable and we are looking forward to many more such years.

Thespians

The National Thespians Society was established for the purpose of dramatic arts advancement in secondary schools. This educational honor in service organizations of teachers and students has two aims: (1) to create an active and intelligent interest in dramatic arts among boys and girls in high schools and (2) to establish and advance standards of excellence of dramatic arts in all phases.

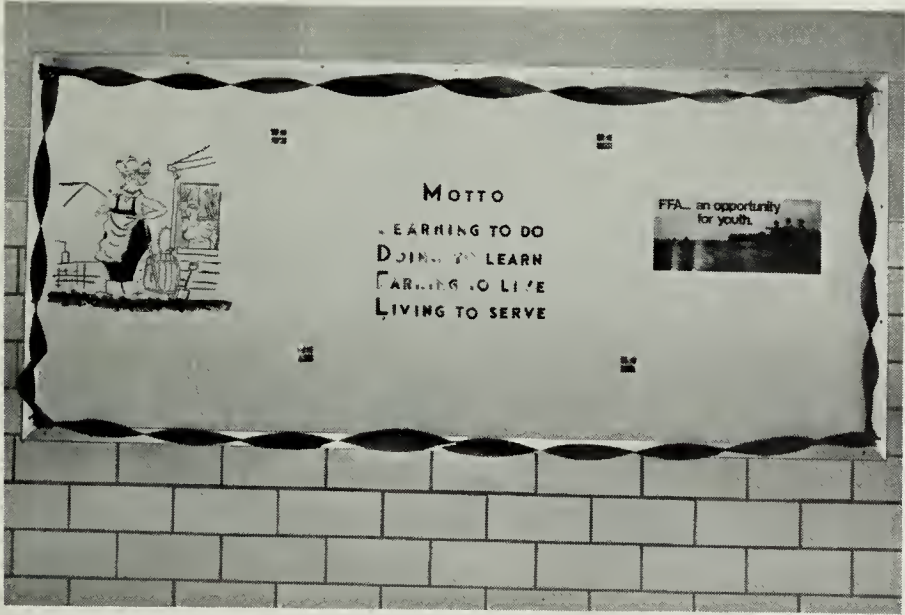

The Thespian members showed talent in various activities.

Future Farmers of America

The '68-'69 members of FFA

The Future Farmers of America of F.F.A., as it is commonly called, is a national organization of students studying vocational agriculture. No national student organization enjoys greater freedom of self-government under adult counsel and guidance, than the Future Farmers of America. Organized in 1928, the F.F.A. provides further training in agriculture, leadership, co-operation and citizenship. The Future Farmers of America is an organization of boys 14 to 21 years of age preparing for an agricultural career through vocational agriculture. Improved agriculture, better communities and better citizens are direct results of boys in the F.F.A.

The 1968-69 officers of the F.H.A.

The F.H.A. theme for this year was "Good Health—A Valuable Asset," which was stressed by carefully planned programs. Safety was an added objective. Mrs. Ann Vaughn, from the Dairy Council, showed the members, by the use of sketches, the importance of nutritious foods in our diets. Mrs. Thelma Davis explained to us the history of wigs and demonstrated the different styles through volunteers. Mrs. Polly Ayers, Teen Co-ordinator from Heironimus, presented a program on fashions and make-up. For the enjoyment of the entire student body a fashion show was planned. During National Federation Week, the girls fixed a bulletin board and decorated the showcase. A tea was given to the faculty in honor of this week. To raise money, the organization sold vanilla and lemon flavoring and dish cloths. The James River Chapter of Future Homemakers of America sponsored by Mrs. Helen Deisher and Mrs. Dorothy Kinzie had a very successful year.

The GAA letter

Helping to create a desire within girls to develop themselves mentally and physically, advancing more and better activities for girls and promoting better sportsmanship were the objectives of the GAA.

The money-making project, the selling of football jerseys, was used to send girls to camp and present two forty dollar scholarships to senior members.

The year was filled with badminton, basketball, ping-pong, shuffleboard, baseball, archery, and track. Through participating in these sports, the girls earned points which entitled them to receive an emblem, a school letter, or a star.

The annual banquet, held at Lakeside, highlighted the GAA year with loads of fun and the presentation of awards.

Strains of "Moon River" and "Chim Chim Chere" rang through the halls as the Glee Club practiced for their spring concert. Directed by Mr. Lowe, the Glee Club also sang "Born Free" and "The Halls of Ivy" for the Baccalaureate Service. Accompanists for the Glee Club throughout the year were Anita and Patsy Barger and Vickie Berry.

Wesley Kern, Sara Vaughn, Sherry Vines, Martha Vaughn, and Anita Barger represented the Glee Club at All-State Chorus in Lynchburg, on February 14, 15, and 16.

Gazing into the future—next year the Glee Club will have regular classes. Anyone in the 9-12 grades may join by auditioning. We foresee a bright future for the Singing Knights.

The members attend one of the many informative demonstrations.

The Outdoor Sportsman Club ranks as a favorite club for the nature-loving group of young people at James River. There are around a hundred members who study and learn various sports along with their club's sponsor, Mr. Tyack. The club members participate in various talks, demonstrations and movies. As the school year started the Outdoor Sportsmen were given a demonstration on skeet shooting and enjoyed a movie on the wildlife of North America.

The winter program included movies on dog training, trees of America, and soil conservation. A demonstration on different gun types, their care, handling and safety while using them was given near hunting season. Along with spring, and before trout season began, a film was featured on the James River and a talk was given on the principle standards and laws of fishing.

FUTURE SCIENTISTS OF AMERICA CHAPTER NO. 189.

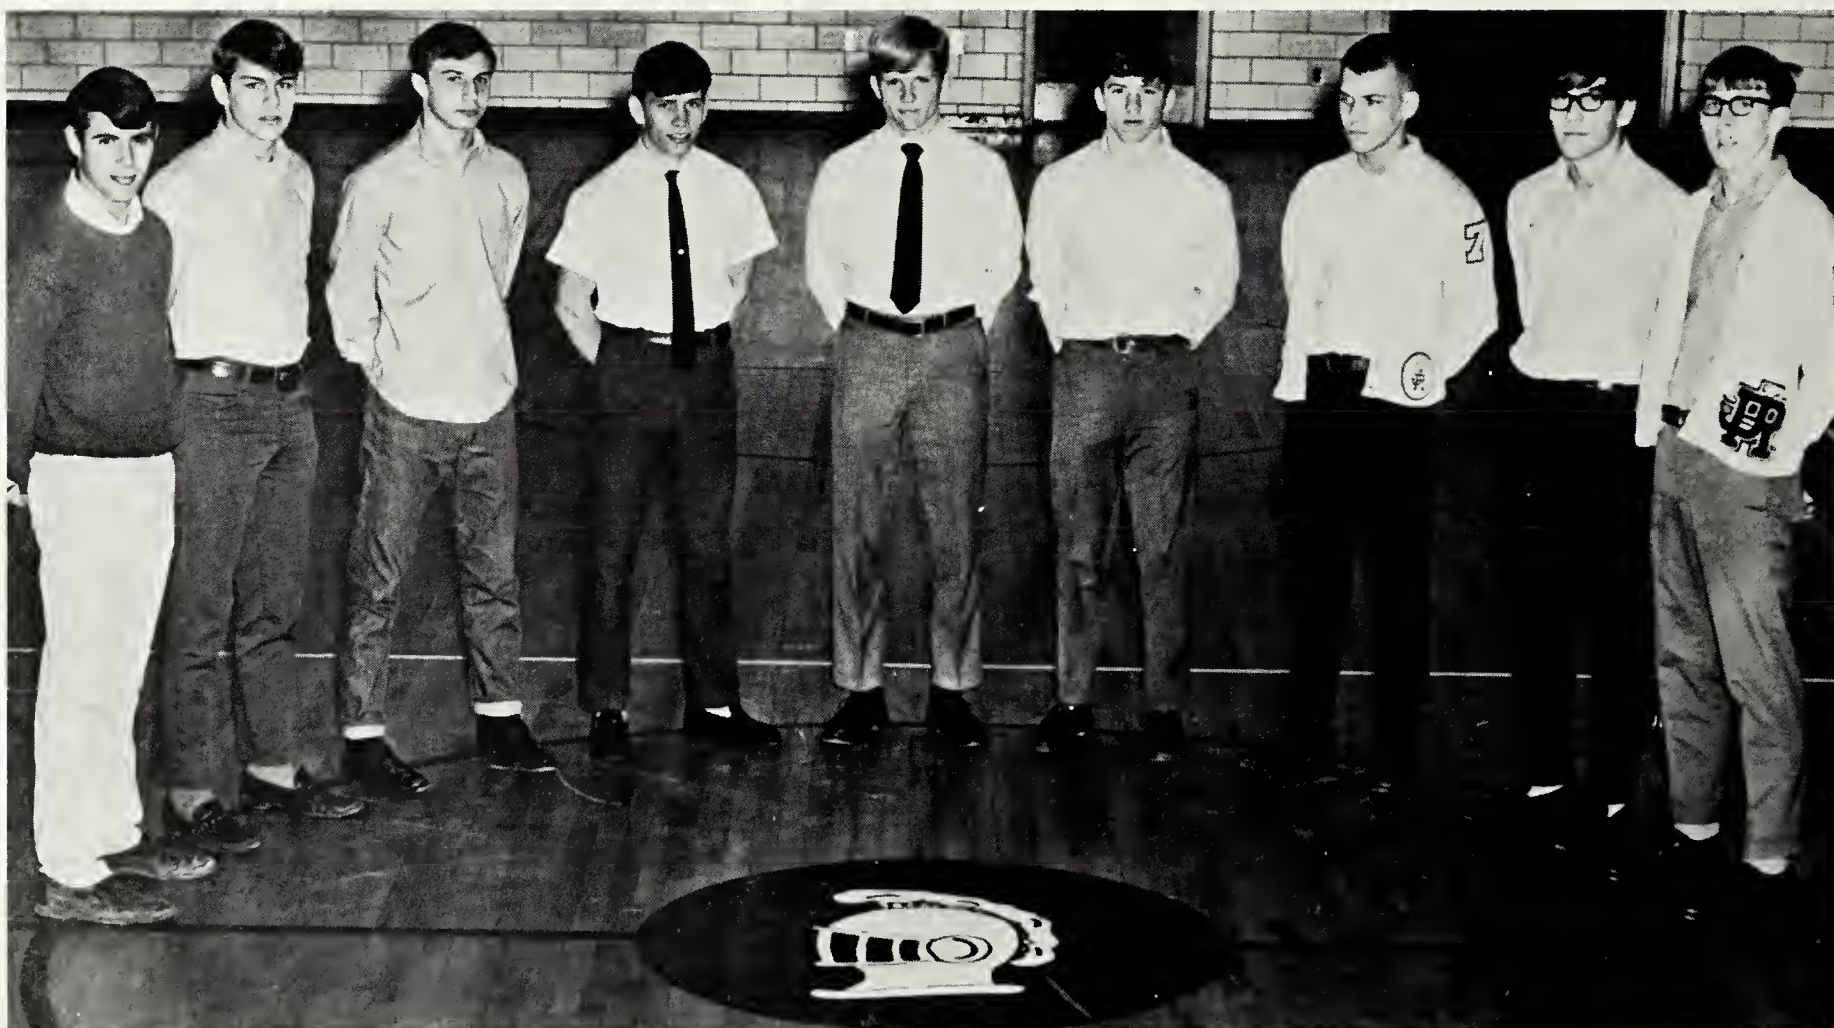

Cutting eats, dissecting earthworms, and watching chemical explosions, are projects participated in by science students. The James River Science Club offers an opportunity to students to further their knowledge in science. The club met this challenge in the 1968-69 year by sponsoring a trip to a science department of a nearby college and by sponsoring an assembly for the student body. Many members of the Science Club worked on projects at the club meetings which were entered in the Botetourt County Science Fair.

Christian Athletes

Painting a picture of the Knight on canvas and hanging it in the gym and building a name board for the Varsity Basketball team, were the main projects of the Varsity Club this year. Funds for these projects came from the annual shooting match and the Varsity Club—Alumni game. The Varsity Club consists of any boy who letters in a varsity sport. Under the capable leadership of coaches John Baker and John Shotwell, the Varsity Club promotes athletics, sportsmanship, fair play, and school spirit.

Y-Teens

The 1968-'69 members

The James River Y-Teen Club is a branch of the Salem Y.W.C.A. Co-ordinating the activities of all the Y-Teen clubs in the Roanoke Valley, including the James River club, the Y.W.C.A. provides many programs, activities, and conferences for the various clubs.

Bake sales, dances, fund drives, mice—all characterized last year's Y-Teen activities. In addition to the drives and dances, the club presented an interesting program each month for its members.

SERVICE

The annual staff working...

Receiving last year's annual.

The 1968-69 Kanawhan is the result of many hours of hard work toward the completion of another great annual. Under the guidance of Mrs. Kathleen Lowman, Mr. Emmet Bolton, and Editor, Wesley Kern, the members of the staff sought needed advice and opinions for a better yearbook. Mr. Cal Gibson, our representative from the publisher, was very helpful in many aspects of publication. Drawing layouts, finding pictures, and writing copy are just three of the many duties of an Annual Staff member of James River High. It's a lot of work, but it's worth it.

Francis Library Club

The Francis Library Club, sponsored by Mrs. Madeline Bunn, had a very good year.

The members, assigned a duty to perform and carry out each month, assisted in the library, serving those students who used it.

The club planned activities revolving around National Library Week, April 20-26, to make the students aware of the educational opportunity the library has to offer.

In order to raise funds, the library assistants sold candy which they used to bind current magazines and for an educational trip.

meet its objectives

The Student Cooperative Association got off to a good start with the first girl president in the history of James River.

Candidates for next year's officers.

The three main objectives for the year adopted were to promote enthusiastic support of school activities, to show the necessity of education and honorable achievement, and to improve the appearance of the school. To promote enthusiastic school spirit each class made signs and other unusual exhibits during the class tournaments to show how much school spirit they had. A spirit stick, which was decided to be given to the class with the most spirit, was taken by the Seniors.

The S.C.A. sponsored a group to Classroom Kwiz this year and even though they were defeated, the showing of the group was outstanding.

Two bake sales proved to be very successful money making projects. They were set up at the last two home basketball games of the season.

The tree trimming ceremony was held in honor of the yuletide season.

Fred proofreads the latest issue.

The Roundtable Staff has long served the student body well. It is published every six weeks for the sole purpose of informing the readers of school news and activities. Many hours of hard work is contributed to this fine newspaper. Writing articles, typing, drawing sketches, meeting deadlines, and giving up lunch to sell the paper is all part of being a member of the Roundtable. Each issue contains a variety of articles along with editorials, and a complete coverage of all sports.

Three members of the staff, Fred Thompson, his sister Donna, and Terry McCulloch, attended the Southern Interscholastic Press Association and felt they gained valuable knowledge in newspaper publishing. This indispensable knowledge should prove helpful in producing a better and more professional school newspaper.

With several young members, the tradition of this newspaper should continue for many years.

Football is hard work; two weeks of two a day pre-season practice under the hot August sun, and then four days of practice in preparation for each encounter. It is yards of tape and elastic bandages giving support to injured ankles, knees, and elbows — a musty smelling locker room — the heaviness of a perspiration soaked undershirt. It is the agony of playing with an injury, or, much worse, it is the agony of defeat. It is the hopelessness of a big linebacker trying to catch a fleet flanker — the beauty of a great broken field run — the violence of a trap block. It is the brotherhood shared by teammates and the respect shared by opponents. It is the taste of blood running from a split lip or a broken nose. It is the popping of pad against pad — the groaning of man against man. It is the satisfaction of beating your opponent, not only outscoring him but by outplaying and outhitting him; thus removing his will to resist. Football is desire, discipline, drive, and indeed much more than a game.

A spirited group of J.V. Football players, ready for action, began practice with the opening of school. Through many days of "hard work", a well balanced offensive and defensive team developed. The team ended the season with a 3-2-2 record. The team as a whole showed great potential as a future Varsity squad.

Skill, determination and desire played the leading role in basketball this season. Here, at James River, the boys worked hard developing these needed qualities. The players on the varsity team practiced two hours after school every day during the season, and were rewarded with a final record of 7-9, and a berth in the District V Tournament. Under the direction of Coach John Shotwell, they gained experience and knowledge in basketball.

The Eighth Grade Basketball team had a highly successful season this year, compiling a 10-2 record. They marched through their schedule overpowering their opponents not only with their size but with their ability as well.

The 1969 golf team boasted a successful season despite the fact that there were no Seniors on the team. Led by two Juniors, Steve Peery and Allen Layman, and directed by Coach John Shotwell, the team worked diligently at the game. The overall record of 5 wins and 5 losses helps to reveal the hours of work utilized on the long fairways.

One of the hardest working teams at J.R. is the Cross Country team. This eager group of boys practiced every day after school during the fall under the leadership of Coach John Shotwell. Although victorious in only one meet, the Cross Country team contributed much to the sports program at J.R.

Sweat, sore muscles, and weeks of hard practice went into this year's track team at James River. The team won only one meet, but on their course, many records were broken. The records broken were: Steve Peery, high jump—5 feet 6 inches; the mile-relay team achieved a time of three minutes, forty-five and two tenths seconds, and Gary Peery threw the shot put 45 feet 7 inches. As these records indicate, our track team was successful in accomplishing many feats.

James River's Varsity Cheerleaders of 1968-69 were selected in the spring of 1968 and started immediately to prepare for the season to come. The cheerleaders toiled over new cheers and motions. These girls sang our boys toward victory with "Stand up for James River High" and led the crowd into the spirit of the games with the great "Two Bits." Striving toward their goal, the Varsity Cheerleaders tried various new ways of promoting spirit in the pep rallies to show the Knights that the whole school was backing them.

With their goals set high, the Lady Knights began hard practice in the early heat of September. Under the aid of their firm, agile coach, Miss Diane Howell, the girls team practiced vigorously. These girls played fearlessly, never giving up their spirited, dauntless drive for sweet success. Although they had an unfortunate season, several of their games were lost by just a few points or by overtime shots.

Pam Rader, Nica Clemmer, and Sharon Farrell demonstrate their knowledge in handling the ball.

Using their knowledge of basketball, the J.V. Girls entered their season showing much eagerness and energy. The girls practiced hard and showed much enthusiasm for playing. Under a new and talented coach, Miss Sally Glascock, the girls went all out to win. Although they suffered three losses, the team spirit kept growing, and a growing spirit can be very promising in future years.

1969 Girls Track sets the pace

The 1969 season of girls track started in the cold April wind and ended in the warm May sun.

These girls practiced many hours in strenuous drills. Skills were developed by running laps and doing various exercises. Individual girls were assigned different drills in the events they wanted to take part in. Miss Diane Howell, the coach, viewed practice with a keen, observing eye and showed the girls needed improvements. After watching the team each day, Miss Howell assigned each girl certain events and final instructions were given.

The girls moved out into the season doing an excellent job of bringing home ribbons from the four track meets they participated in. One meet was the first to take place at James River for several years and the girls were proud to win it.

Dramatic Seniors? Of course. The Senior Class presented "Cat O'Nine Tails" in November. The following seniors brought forth their talents by participating in the play: Frank Hall—Henry, Nancy Dunbar—Miss Smith, Jim Beamer—Mr. Gordon, Brenda Roberson—Mrs. Gordon, Linda Smith—Betty, Pat Scruggs—Mr. Fox, Tommy Hill—Jimmy, Sherry Vines—Theodora, Bernie Hall—Mr. Jacob, Cathy Hyde—Bridgett, Sonia Mountcastle—Peggy, Ralph Lugar—Mysterious man. The play was given two nights to the public and one day to the student body with all performances outstanding.

Juniors are dramatic too!

Look at those legs!

The Junior Class presented "Professor How Could You?" It was given on May 8 and 9 to the public and the following Monday to the student body. All three performances were successful. Everyone of the Juniors that participated brought forth a great acting ability. They were—Fred Thompson, Keats Perry; Susan Bryant, Vicky Randolph; Barbara Coffey, Grandma Perry; Jimmy Mowles, Grandpa Perry; Steve Peery, John Appleby; Chloe Camper, Priscilla Mosley; Ellen Gilliam, Tootsie Beam; Roger Gibson, Butcher Boy Beam; Glenda Lemon, Valerie Whitman; Alvin Wilcher, Boggins; and Beth Coggin, Evie Lynn Shotwell, and Jeffery Campbell, three young children.

Interesting, Entertaining

Assemblies at James River have always been educational interesting, and entertaining. The vice-president, of the S.C.A., Mr. Sprinkle, Mrs. Marshall and the faculty try each year to give the students something that they will enjoy, and yet will further their education. These assemblies vary from the students of James River to professional people from all around. The students at James River will never have to worry about not having good assemblies.

Queen and Court reign over Homecoming '68

Queen and court start dance off.

The Pep Rally Friday afternoon put everyone into a fighting spirit. This enthusiasm helped to produce a wonderful game by having the Knights down Riverheads 34-0. Then to an impressive half-time by the crowning of the Queen, Sherry Vines. After a victorious game, a dance was held in the school cafeteria to end a memorable Homecoming.

Juniors transform cafeteria

Steve Peery, Fred Thompson, and Charles Watts helped on prom preparations

The Junior Class worked hard to give the Seniors a beautiful prom.

The theme chosen was Tahitian Holiday. A kit was ordered and Juniors made the decorations from the kit by putting together instructions. Other necessities were bought separately with funds that the Junior class made. The Junior class had a meeting to choose a band. D.R. Roberts and His Orchestra were chosen.

Then the work began. Students worked after school putting together palm trees and hedges. Card tables were collected, streamers hung, and floors mopped. The pool had to be made and the ocean scene hung. Others worked during study hall and lunch period doing the harder things that required more work. Guest lists, announcements, and a time order of events were made.

Finally after all the hard work, it was time for the big and long awaited night.

Allen Laymen and Kathleen Reid are busy hanging streamers.

The excitement grew,

The Seniors formed a figure 69 as they were introduced.

Attended by Juniors, Seniors, and guests, the 1968-69 Junior-Senior Prom was a very beautiful, gay, and joyous occasion.

Girls in long, flowing, pastel gowns and young men in white dinner jackets added to the beauty of the paradise following the theme Tahitian Holiday.

The sitting area was surrounded by hedges and palm trees placed between the tables. The dance floor was a clear area, surrounded by the band-stand and a pool as the center of attraction.

The evening was highlighted when the king and queen, Mark Rice and Sherry Vines, were crowned by Principal, Charles A. Sprinkle.

As the evening came to a close and guests left slowly, each parted with the memory of an ecstatic evening just passed.

Aisle for last time

The 1969-70 installation of officers assembly and the last assembly for the Seniors left a number of mixed emotions for the entire class of Seniors.

For the new officers, the assembly opened up a new challenge for them and other members of the student body. Gary Barger introduced Nancy Dunbar, S.C.A. 68-69 president, who installed officers and gave a speech.

The officers for next year are: president—Robert Simpson, David Rankin—vice-president, Sonya Austin—Secretary, Otho Mundy—Treasurer, and Chloe Camper—Reporter.

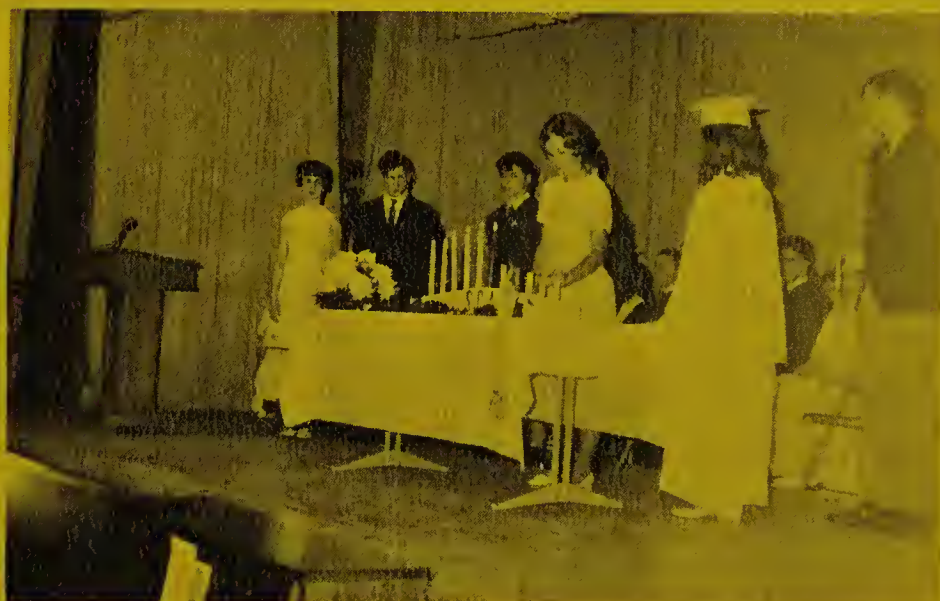

For the Seniors, it meant the last assembly of their high school years. Only a few more days and their high school career would come to an end. Now they must take what they had learned and set forth to accomplish higher goals. They will use past experiences to build a better future.

Seniors await Their walk for Baccalaureate

On June 1, 1969, at 8:00 p.m. the class of '69 was drawing close to an end their years at James River. Now with only two days left, a sadness falls over them. Reverend Hughes gave the Baccalaureate address.

The Glee Club added to the service by singing "Born Free" and "The Halls of Ivy" with Mr. Lowe playing the trumpet. Reverend Anderson then closed with a prayer.

On June 5, the class of 1969 looked back over five years that have past quickly. Those years with all their meaning—the friends, the ups and downs—will remain with them always. Now as Mr. Sprinkle turns the tassels of each Senior, they will be looking forward to future years.

Come see the making of power

Vepco's first commercial atomic power station is now under construction in Surry County, Virginia. In the new Information Center overlooking the site, you will see an excellent slide presentation, fascinating exhibits, and a working model of the reactor. (And from the balcony, you can watch them assemble the real thing.) Open 10 AM to 4 PM Monday through Saturday and 1 PM to 6 PM on Sunday. For tour information call 771-3194 in Richmond.

Here's why our agents are tops in their class.

We could say we don't like to brag, but...

But we do. We're proud. Our Agents are forever winning professional awards. Far, far more than their share.

Why? Well, we do choose them carefully, train them well, and they spend full time at the job. These things all help.

But most of them reach the top through hard work. Many regularly burn the midnight oil. Voluntarily. They keep up with their field so they can do a better job for their clients. Good Agents.
